Features of the Teading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Big buying orders largely from Wall street houses, forced largely from Wall street houses, forced an unusually sharp advance in the wheat market here. The consequence was an excited close at virtually the top prices reached, $4,874c net higher, with December at $1.08 and May at $1.075c. Corn gained 14,074c and outs 10,74c to 14,074c.

decline to a rise of 179c. Although wheat showed strength right rom the outset, the jumps in price were nly moderate until the last half of the Although wheat showed strength right from the outset, the jumps in price were only moderate until the last half of the day. Then the market suddenly went wild. Purchasing by strong interests had taken all of the surplus supply out of the speculative pit, and had set the shorts bidding against one another in a manner that soon became frantic. It was in van that attempts were put forth to represent that the advance would check the export demand. The answers appeared sufficient that ocean charters had been made yesterday for as much as 140,000 bushels of grain at the highest vessel rates on record. So great a volume of foreign demand, with news of rains once more putting a slop to threshing in the Dakotas and Mannesota, left the bears almost holpless. Heavy profit taking on the buige in the wheat market resulted in one lively setback to prices, but the downturn was occurred. the wheat market resulted in one lively setback to prices, but the downturn was not of a lasting sort. A fresh wave of buying, especially in the final quarter of an hour, brought about greater advances than before. Some at least of the great hervousness prevailing at the finish was due to report that owing to excessive moisture the spring crop was beginning to sprout in the shock and might develop a seriously lowered condition paralleling the wicespread harm due to the winter wheat belt.

Frost damage throughout illinols and lows gave independent strength to corn. The wheat buige, though, counted also decidedly against the bears. Trade in oats broadened out in consequence of enlarged demand for other cereals. About the only offerings came from standing orders in commission houses.

Provisions continued their recent sweeping upturn. There were no signs of a halt in the active export demand.

While the yards were from yesterday. While the yards were full of stockmen from the country, who were here on account of the Ak-Sar-Ben feativities, they did not appear to be in a buying mood. As a result the trade was very much of a drag, being quoted as anywhere from slow to 19c or more lower than yesterday.

Sheriff Traeger, asked whether he would enforce the closing law in the Cook county towns outside of Chicago, where there are many roadhouses, replied that he would consult his attorney. Chief of Police Healey said that he would enforce the orders of the mayor.

Officials of the United Societies for local self government, the champions of the liquor forces, held several conferences with their legal advisers and sought for grounds on which the order could be attacked in the courts. There also was much discussion over whether the other sections of the Sunday law relative to disturbing the peace of society on Sunday could be enforced to prevent Sunday base bal sames and close theatres, drug stores, eating houses

Estimates called for fifty-four cars, or 3,40 head, bringing the total for the three days up to 5,619 head. This is 5,000 smaller than last week, and is only a little over half as large as last year, but is a gain of about 800 head over two weeks ago, when the run was, with one exception, the lightest for several years.
